The AXE Group's Purchasing Policy

AXE was built upon strong values:
RESPECT, RESPONSIBILITY, and LEADING BY EXAMPLE.
These values have always guided us.

Our Purchasing Policy is grounded precisely in these same values. It rests on principles that form the foundation of the relationships—based on trust, transparency, ethics, and respect—that must exist between AXE, its employees, and its partners (both suppliers and customers) worldwide.

Driving progress and innovation with our partners to benefit the company, its customers, and its markets.

This guiding principle will shape our actions, inspire our choices, and bring our values to life in our day-to-day activities. It is the duty of all to act in accordance with these rules of conduct, which define our integrity and ethics.

Our commitment to Corporate Social Responsibility will be absolute.

Reducing CO2 emissions and managing resources sustainably will be central to our priorities, enabling us to build responsible partnerships with our suppliers and subcontractors.

We will be diligent in forging relationships based on ethics, respect for human rights, and safe, healthy working conditions, while prioritizing the development of local and inclusive partnerships.

We will, more than ever, be a company that inspires trust and respect.

We must partner with our suppliers and subcontractors to foster sustainable development across technical, economic, environmental, social, and quality domains. These rules are not exhaustive, but—combined with a sense of individual responsibility—they serve as useful guidelines for all company members and partners alike.

Our strategy is to build long-term relationships with our suppliers and subcontractors while respecting the interests and cultures of all parties. Guided by strong values, the AXE Group's purchasing teams work alongside their suppliers and subcontractors in a shared commitment to continuous improvement, responsibility, fairness, respect, and shared performance.

This is what continues to underpin our signature: The blend of core competencies.
